Sudan

Three equal horizontal bands of red (top color), white (middle color), and black (bottom color) grace the Sudanese flag. A green isosceles triangle is based on the hoist side. The colors of the flag have symbolic meaning. Red stands for bloodshed against British colonialism and the martyrs of Republic of Sudan. White stands for purity and optimism. Black stands for the country's independence struggle. Green stands for prosperity and agriculture.