

Build your own House of Wisdom

Instructions: There is a new House of Wisdom being built in your town or city. This house is destined to be an important building because it will be a library of knowledge. Many citizens will depend on this library for education and self-enrichment. Presently, this library is rather empty and in need of knowledge. You are personally assigned the responsibility of filling the House of Wisdom. Many people are depending on you. What kind of knowledge do you think is useful? Should the library be like a museum? What kind of books, magazine, or DVDs should the library have? Please write a short essay. You do not have to be scientifically technical in your responses. Try to be as general as you can. Good luck, we're counting on you!
